

FolknHarmony

Stripped-down American Folk Trio

“The band's interpretations of well known covers bring the right sort of uniqueness and renewal that can cause listeners to fall in love with the song all over again.”

Be warned – FolknHarmony plays gritty, stripped-down blues, stomps, laments, parodies, a bunch of folked up rock tunes we like, two-steps, and the occasional doo-wop.

We find the folk spirit in iconic, generational songs from the last half century or so. Fans can expect to hear new arrangements of songs they will recognize, but rarely hear, and have never heard like this.

FolknHarmony performs punctually for patrons on patios or porticos, under pergolas, in parlors, at pubs and in parks. We are also open to new listening environments, including spelling bees, Model UN Conferences, and parties that serve no visible purpose.

Venues say –

“FolknHarmony never disappoints!” – Pub 32

“A fantastic Friday night!” – Cafe in the Park

Fans say –

“Absolutely amazing! First time we caught this trio. I hope they'll be back!”

“A fantastic group of musicians and people!!”

“They combine voices and instruments that sound as if they've played together forever.”

“Chemistry. FolknHarmony has undeniable chemistry with their music and with their audience.”
